PROBLEM STATEMENT

Limited support networks: Women entrepreneurs in tech lack accessible and supportive digital communities for networking and mentorship.

Financial barriers: Limited access to financial resources and microfinance options hinders women's economic independence in tech entrepreneurship.

Financial literacy gap: Women lack adequate financial literacy resources and tools to make informed financial decisions for their tech ventures.

Gender disparity: Underrepresentation of women in the tech industry hampers diverse perspectives and innovation.

Integrated solution needed: There is a need for an all-in-one mobile application, TechHeroines, offering financial resources, budgeting tools, microfinance, and a digital community to empower women entrepreneurs in tech.
